THIS IS IMPORTANT FOR ME

CREATIVITY :

To learn new things and keep on being creative is something very important for me. These are qualities I want to give to my students, because I believe that that's where simple reproducing stops and art begins. To explore the different dimensions of a sound and to find out how we are able to produce them with an instrument and our bodies, is what learning and instrument is about. As much Curiosity someone has, as more are the changes to learn something new.

EXPRESSION:

"Music is how feelings Sound like"

Every kind of Art is a way to express our inner self.

So does Music.

We learn how to show our inner worlds in a creative way but also how to really find out what is inside, to be able to express it.

INDIVIDUALITY:

Each one of us is different and extra ordinary. Everyone learns differently, has another path and plays differently.

For sure they are some goals we want to follow and people we admire for their musical career, but if you play it is your music you create. I want to help you explore and develop this music, so your find YOUR extra ordinary way

HOLISTIC APPROACH:

The Music travels from the soul, to our body and then to the Instrument. It may sound a bit philosophical and abstract, but isn't it how it is?

My approach in my lessons is that all this stations matter. Body exercises and mind work affect also your music and sound, so in the lessons we will work with them as well.
